There's an Agile for Every Project.

By: Jared Hale

Introducing the new and expanded Agile range, a collection of durable, versatile, and stylish desking solutions to suit any office project.

There’s no bigger lie in advertising than the infamous line of “one size fits all”. Despite the convincing marketing spin, there just isn’t one single product that can meet every need of anyone that picks it up. We realized this early on, and rather than try to design one standing desk to rule them all, we decided to engineer a suite of desks and accessories to accommodate every possible office project. The result is the new and expanded Agile range, a collection of durable, versatile, and stylish desking solutions to suit any situation.

The Agile Range at a Glance

We’ve designed the Agile range to be the ultimate toolkit for resellers and project managers. From budget-conscious, entry-level solutions all the way through to premium electric standing desks, there’s now an Agile for every project.

Compatibility

We ensured that the entire line is compatible with the various accessories and acoustic screen solutions we have available.

Cable Management & Soft Wiring

The entire collection is compatible with OLG cable management systems including mounting plates, cable ports, baskets and trays, clutch sets and ceiling systems.

Soft wiring services are also available for fixed and integrated power supply to workstations.

Studio50 & Acoustiq Screens

Acoustic workstation screens are as much about privacy as they are about reducing the level of ambient noise on the office floor. The entire Agile range is compatible with our line of Studio50 screens and Acoustiq solutions.

Piece of Mind

Just like all OLG's products, this range is covered by the same 10-year manufacturer's warranty for faulty products. With the average office refresh cycle being between 3-5 years, Agile products are guaranteed to last beyond the average lifetime of most competing products.
