Who we are

Our History.

Since its humble beginnings in 1987, OLG has become a trusted industry leader and partner within the Australian commercial furniture space.

Our relevant product range is accessible through our devoted network of resellers, project and corporate partners across Australia. These partnerships allow us to deliver thoughtful and aspirational products that are easy to install, independently tested and backed by warranty. We have tailored workspace solutions for various sectors, including Government, Corporate, Education, and Healthcare.

Headquartered in Marsden Park, Sydney, with additional offices in New Zealand and the Philippines, OLG's dynamic team fuels our operation, embodying our core ethos of 'Passion for People', being 'Performance Driven', and committing to 'Creating with Purpose'.

Support.

olgooffice.com

At OLG, communication is heartfelt and unpretentious, fostering a genuine connection that extends beyond mere transactions. Olgooffice.com is your easy-to-navigate online resource for product information, virtual showroom and our extensive learning center, articles.

Digital Channels

By utilising strategic online channels, OLG is dedicated to building brand recognition through product education, which supports effective sell-through to end customers.

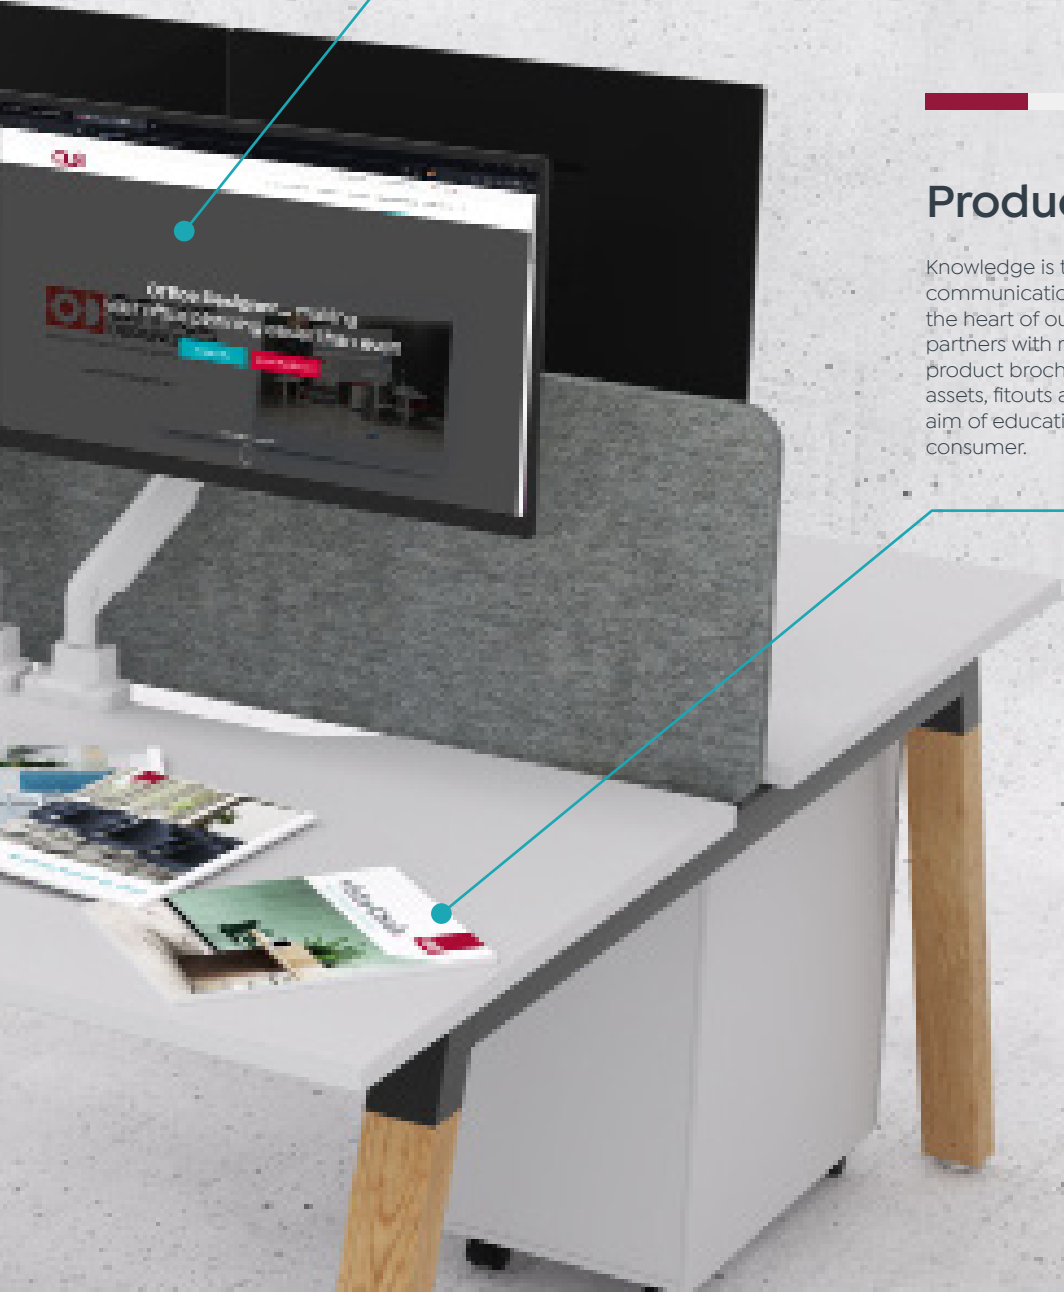

Office Planning Made Easy with Office Designer

Create your very own office plan using OLG's Office Designer. This unique tool makes it possible to plan and visualise office fitout with the help of your suppliers, contractors and clients to see just how accurately your workspace requirements are. Ultimately saving you time and money when getting estimates.

Product Support

Knowledge is the foundation of our communication with our product range at the heart of our expertise. We support our partners with relevant sales tools such as product brochures, install instructions, digital assets, fitouts and render support. All with the aim of educating and supporting the end consumer.

Our Brand

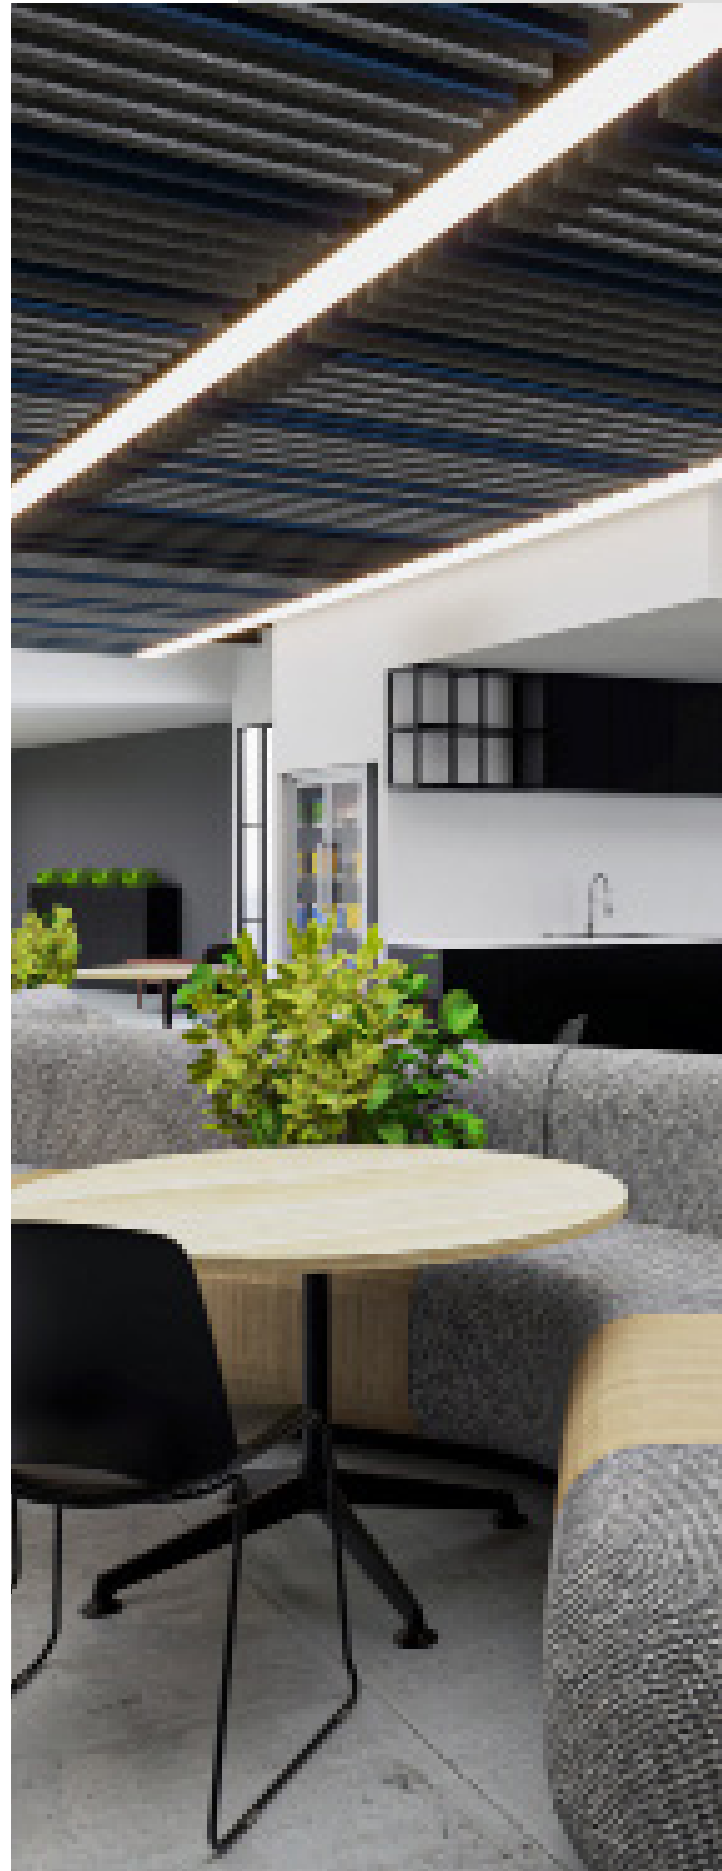

OLG Brand Pillars.

Grounded Innovation in Design and Functionality

OLG stands at the intersection of thoughtful design and practical application, crafting products that embody the essence of both aspiration and functionality. Our focus is on creating items that are as practical as they are aesthetically pleasing, ensuring every piece we deliver enriches the workspace and sparks inspiration. At OLG, we're dedicated to crafting products that embody the essence of both aspiration and functionality.

Sustainability and Responsibility

We believe in doing well by doing good. Sustainability is at the heart of everything we do, from eco-friendly materials and processes to initiatives aimed at reducing our environmental footprint. OLG is dedicated to building a better future for our planet, our communities, and our customers.
